1. On the results page, I thought that we had agreed to remove the "Thank you for participating" header and that we wanted to include a chart title above the spider graphic.

We will do this, we did not have this in our notes

2. I noticed that there is no spider graph animation loading on the results calculation page.

The spider graph is animating - what browser/OS and screen pixel width are you testing on?

3. And last, it seems that when choosing to print a report from mobile device there is no option to save as PDF.

A save button on iPhone, requires an iCloud or google drive. This is done on purpose by manufacturers to avoid virus.

We can add instructions so people will know how to download.

4. Titles for chart larger.

Titles can be made larger, however the chart will reduce in size to accomodate. This is a chart.js feature

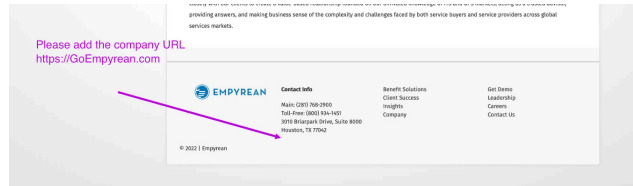

Column full width

Full width column is possible - this would be a fixed position for every report. This will effect PDF

7. PDF margins

Yes

8. Dot bigger

Yes - we have already enlarged the dot substantially from what appeared in the XD file

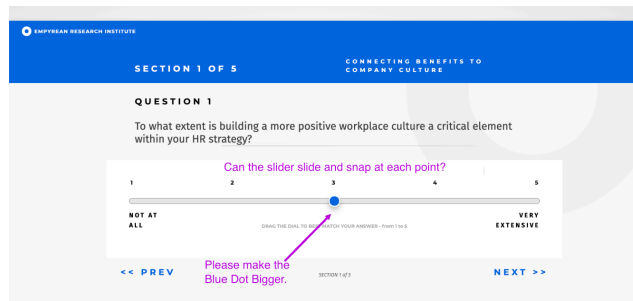

7.

8. Slider Snap to each point

The slider is built to snap to a point, however this feature is dictated by browser settings. We are also building the site with accessibility tools. We can eliminate these, however it will disable accessibility features

BENEFITS MATURITY INDEX

Please align these elements

The pandemic and its aftermath have had an unparalleled level of impact on the workforce and the importance of building a positive workplace culture and employee experience. Take this assessment to determine whether your benefits operation is sufficiently mature to positively impact your organization's culture and business outcomes.

METHODOLOGY

While the importance of the Benefits Administration function to HR operations and the wider enterprise may have been oversimplified in the past, today, the role of benefits leaders has become increasingly more strategic to the core success of an organization.

Empyrean sponsored Nelson Hall to conduct a research study, interviews and the extent to which benefits operations is key to employee retention and retention. Request a copy of the report.

Results of that research were used to build a Benefits Maturity Index. Over the next few minutes, you'll answer a series of questions that will indicate your performance relative to that of your peers. Based on
